

Osinbajo Refused Offer To Travel Abroad For Surgical Operation, Presidency Sourc - Politics - Nigeria posted by ijustdey

* FEC wishes VP quick recovery

Deji Elumoyebi and Olawale Ajimotokan in Abuja

The Vice President, Prof. Yemi Osinbajo at the weekend insisted on using a Nigerian hospital and medical experts for the surgical operation to correct a fracture on his right femur despite the advice of his doctors for him to go abroad for the operation.

According to sources close to Duchess International Hospital in Ikeja, Lagos, where the operation took place on Saturday, some of the government and private practice doctors of the vice president made the suggestion because the going abroad option was often usually considered by such class of patients and at times the option could also seem more seamless.

But one of the doctors who coordinated the surgery, Dr. Yemi Onabowale, who is the founder of the Reddington Hospital, was quoted to have said â€œthe VP was clear that he had confidence in Nigerian doctors both at home and abroad and would prefer they handle the operation.â€

His preference to have the surgery done in Nigeria was also being regarded as a major boost for the governmentâ€™s often stated objective of a reversed medical tourism as some voices in the healthcare sector have expressed excitement at the Vice Presidentâ€™s choice.

Osinbajo was also said to have argued that doing the operation in Nigeria would not only encourage Nigerian doctors who are among the best anywhere in the world, but it would also help develop the capacity here in Nigeria and further build on the medical infrastructure in the country.

Confirming the development, a senior presidency official who pleaded anonymity said it was true the vice president was given the option to go abroad but opted to do it here.

â€œThe VPâ€™s view is that most people donâ€™t even know the facilities exists here. Besides we have some of the best doctors available anywhere,â€ the official disclosed. Meanwhile, the Federal Executive Council (FEC), has wished Osinbajo quick recovery following the successful operation possibly related to a long standing injury associated with the game of squash.

The Secretary to the Government of the Federation, Mr. Boss Mustapha, in a statement yesterday sent the goodwill to the vice president on behalf of Council. He expressed delight that the surgical operation, which was performed by a team of specialist doctors in Lagos, was reported to be successful. As Osinbajo recuperates from the surgical operation, FEC wished him quick recovery so as to continue to give the needed support for the overall growth and stability of the country.

VP Osinbajo has always been a good leader, and it is easy to say he is the best President we never had. Osinbajo is not your regular politician that always runs abroad for medical checks. I wish him a quick recovery.

That's not a simple surgery...for those who don't know...Femur is the longest and strongest bone in the body...the thigh bones.

It's actually a great self discipline to be at Prof. Osinbajo's position and agree to do such surgery in Nigeria (Not that our Drs are not good..No, just because of the will to afford such)

The nonsense we daily read as news in Nigeria is a manifestation of the mismanagement of our economy, irresponsibility and rascality in governance. Our Stockholm syndrome is overtly manifest and chronic.

Osinbajo has been in governance for a better part of 20+ years to my knowledge, and if he can honestly say that no hospital or clinic in contiguous Nigeria is fit to attend to his none life-threatening health matter, then he must also be graded in line with his principal and all other reprobates who impoverished us while elevating their own lives.

His fellow Nigerians who are daily dying from curable and even preventable malaria afflictions are no less worthy in God's eyes.

Kwem

Even my governor will never accept to be treated in Nigeria..

Osibanjo was going to be a better option, good things don't last 🤔🤔
